1210. PUBLIC PARTICIPATION

In accordance with the Council's public participation scheme the Chairman advised that there were two persons wishing to speak.

Mrs Rosaline Murphy of 4 Bower Garden, Maldon and Mr Simon Gladys of 7 Gate Street, Maldon addressed the Committee in relation to Agenda Item 8 – Police and Crime Commissioner Question and Answer Session.

1211. CHIEF INSPECTOR'S PERFORMANCE REPORT

Chief Inspector Ronnie Egan, District Commander addressed the Committee she advised that Detective Inspector Rob Kirby, due to attend the meeting to speak on crime solved rates within the Maldon District, was unfortunately unable to attend but she would endeavour to cover any questions. Chief Inspector (CI) Egan drew Members' attention to the Essex Police Performance Summary report, appended to Agenda Item 9 – Maldon District Community Safety Partnership Update.

CI Egan provided Members with a detailed update and highlighted the following areas:

- Solved Rates – This was one of the Police priorities and a national issue. Work was ongoing across District to identify why figures had been falling.
- Dwelling burglaries – There had been a spike in figures but this was reducing and there had been a lot of work across the Maldon and Chelmsford teams which had shown very good results. Detective Inspector Rob Kirby was running a new initiative which captured information on social media / Essex Community Messaging to get specific messages out to the public etc.

CI Egan referred to a recent spate of dwelling burglaries in Burnham-on-Crouch and how within two days of information going out arrests had been made and two persons charged. This success was down to the combined work of the Police, Community Policing Team, Community, Council etc.

Members were asked to encourage their local communities to continue working with the Police to capture information.

The Committee were advised of Operation Insight, which used predictive policing, and intelligence analysis to target the force's resources at areas which, this information suggests, were most at risk of burglary. CI Egan referred to the number of burglaries since December 2015 to date and how the Maldon District compared with others.

- Proactive Working – CI Egan reported how she hoped to rerun Operation Galloway a partnership operation to tackle crime types across District, highly visible proactive working with gang teams, farmers in the District, the casualty reduction team etc. When originally run this Operation saw over 60 arrests across the Maldon and Chelmsford Districts.
- Theft of Motor Vehicles – The Maldon District had seen a significant increase this year and a similar pattern had been seen across districts. No specific trends or patterns had been identified but the Police were working to identify more specific information regarding these crimes.
- Rural Crime – This has been adopted as a priority by the Police. Members were informed of the ongoing work around hare coursing (Operation Galileo) and how the Maldon District was priority district for this. The Rural Policing team at headquarters had been expanded to specifically target this and traveller related issues.

There had been a number of birds of prey poisoned in the Burnham area and work was ongoing between Natural England and the Police.

- Technology – Mobile devices had been used to good effect in supporting rural activities. Essex Police were seeking approval to purchase a software application, currently used by Kent Police, which incorporated Heritage Watch and provided opportunity for reports to be updated via the application.
- Volunteers – Close working with volunteers, neighbourhood watch, active citizens etc. continued. CI Egan advised that Essex Police were looking to encourage volunteers wanting to work with the Police and anyone interested should contact her team.

Following the update from CI Egan, a number of questions were raised by Members of the Committee and in response the following information was provided:

- Rural Crime on Farms – Rural crime had been adopted as a rural priority. In respect of thefts of equipment from farms, Members were advised that the nature of the property taken proved challenging but the Police were planning work around a rural crime panel to speak to victims to identify further learning and experience.
- Automatic Number Plate Recognition (ANPR) Cameras – The Police were working with BT and power networks to resolve outstanding issues affecting the operation of some ANPR cameras within the District. This had been a very slow process and it was hoped the cameras would be operational as soon as possible but the CI made it clear the final resolution of the problem rested with third parties. In response to a comment regarding a resident being told the cameras had been checked following a burglary when they were not in operation, CI Egan advised that she would take this up separately outside of the meeting.

In response to a question regarding use of CCTV images captured by the public,

CI Egan outlined how where an image of a suspect had been captured as part of the investigation this image would be shared across the Force (both Essex and other adjacent Forces) and specific trusted partners. The Police would seek to utilise every avenue including involving the local community to ensure identification of a suspect as quickly as possible.

- Members were reminded that Essex Police worked closely with the traveller community and CI Egan provided some examples of recent work. It was noted that the Traveller Unit at Police Headquarters had recently been expanded.

The Police and Crime Commissioner (PCC) offered his apologies for arriving late due to problems on the M25. He reported of a national programme for investment in digital policing which would scan the internet, social media etc. and be used to help Police investigations. The PCC reminded the Committee that posting an incident on social media was not reporting it to the Police and he highlighted the Police online reporting service.

The PCC then provided Members with a detailed update on a number of matters, highlighted below. It was noted that a new Police and Crime Plan had been published in November 2016 and contained a new key priority regarding local, visible, accessible policing. A second priority dealt with anti-social behaviour.

- The investment in technology had made Police more mobile, visible, capable of working remotely and able to be out of station and amongst the public. The importance of having visible Officer presence was noted.
- The PCC referred to the rebalancing of resources to provide better services to the public including more visible Officers preventing petty crime to ensure it did not escalate into more serious crime.
- He asked Members to encourage land owners not to take matters into their own hands but report them to the Police. Through reporting a better intelligence base could be built.
- The PCC reported that the policing precept was increasing by 3.25% this year which was the equivalent to £4.95 per band D household. These extra monies would be spent on 41 new front line Police Officers and 15 / 16 additional Officers in the force control room (which would provide a better response to non-emergency crime). Local responsibilities were delegated to the local Community Safety Partnership who were setting priorities for the Community Policing Teams. It was noted that in Maldon one of those rural priorities would be addressing rural crime. The PCC reported that across the County they were also making more investment in dealing with rural crime.
- Operation Galileo showed that the Police did take hare coursing, a serious crime, very seriously.
- A drone had been purchased which would be used for example, to identify persons hiding and would help improve chances of catching and dealing with criminals. It was noted that the drone was more effective than the Force helicopter in some scenarios and operated at a fraction of the cost.
- In respect of the travelling community, Members were advised that the Police would become involved in respect of criminal activity and not because they were travellers. The PCC reported of a recent successful meeting of the Rural and Traveller Crime Panel where a protocol and process for taking action had been agreed.

In response to a question regarding Operation Galileo, CI Egan reported that although there had not been any related arrests a number of warnings had been issued and she outlined the process for further prosecution. CI Egan agreed to provide Members with some information regarding this Operation as the solve rates in the Police Performance Summary did not relate to Operation Galileo offences.

Reference was made to a murder in St. Lawrence and DI Egan reported that she was aware of this incident and the Police had someone in custody at this time.

1212. DETECTIVE INSPECTOR'S DISCUSSION ON CRIME SOLVED RATES WITHIN THE MALDON DISTRICT

Please note that Crime Solved Rates were discussed as part of Agenda Item 6 – Chief Inspectors Performance Report.

1213. POLICE AND CRIME COMMISSIONER QUESTION AND ANSWER SESSION

The Police and Crime Commissioner (PCC), having given an earlier update to Members, responded to a number of questions and provided the following information:

- The Chief Constable and PCC both shared concern about public confidence in policing and a new plan was being implemented to correct this.
- Essex Police was the most tightly funded police force in England and Wales with the lowest amount spent per resident. The Police had to increase its Council Tax precept due to increasing costs etc. The PCC reported on a paper put forward to Government from Essex Police regarding the relative cost of rural policing compared to the cost of urban policing as statistics showed that the same crime in a rural area could cost 25 / 30% more.
- The monies resulting from recent changes being put in place to reduce from 80 to 30 sites across the county with ten key primary operating locations were being reinvested to make the Police more mobile and more able to work remotely.
- Members noted the work being done in respect of special constables, which included a change to the management structure, better working across the force, new business plan and hiring of additional Officers. The PCC advised that the Police were looking for volunteers and advised that if Members had anyone who was interested to direct them to the Police website. He explained that the recruitment package advised that a person could specify if they wished to join to police just their local community only.
- Parish Councils had been involved in the new initiatives and the PCC advised that if Members were aware of any Parish Council that had not to let him know.

In response to a request to attend a meeting in Southminster with local residents, the PCC advised that he would be delighted to attend such a meeting.

1214. MALDON DISTRICT COMMUNITY SAFETY PARTNERSHIP UPDATE

The Committee noted the report of the Director of Customers and Community detailing progress of activities undertaken by the Maldon Community Safety Partnership and the proposed priorities for 2017 / 18.

Appendix 1 to the report outlined the statutory duties aligned to the Community Safety Partnership. Following completion of the strategic assessment of crime, health and data perceptions from the last year, Officers recommended that the priorities outlined in the report be adopted. It was noted that a priority relating to tackling rural crime had been added and one of the areas highlighted in Maldon was speeding.

The most recent Essex Police strategic management performance data was attached as Appendix 2 to the report. Appendix 3 provided a comparison as to how the Council was performing against Councils in similar groups.

The Community Safety Partnership Manager presented the report and provided Members with update on a number of areas relating to the Partnership set out in the report, including:

- Preventing violent extremists – a grant had been received from the Home Office. The Community Safety Partnership Manager represented Essex on the Prevent Board, cascading information down to other officers, where appropriate;
- Domestic homicides – It was noted that the process for domestic homicides was being centralised and Essex County Council would be dealing with them in the future.
- Tru-Cam initiative – Community Protection Officers were being trained on the use of this equipment.
- PCC Consultation on the Essex Fire and Rescue Service – This had been considered by the Responsible Authorities Group (RAG) who along with the Community Services Committee had agreed to support the government models. The Community Safety Partnership Manager would be writing formally to the PCC to advise him of this.
- Community Safety Hubs – Action plans for 2017 / 18 had been considered and would be updated before they were circulated to partners.
- Community Engagement, including such work as the Crucial Crew workshops was noted.
- Southminster Doorstep Club – This was delivered by the Youth Service and funding had now been confirmed for three years.
- Domestic violence – The Community Safety Partnership would be signing up to J9 in Maldon, something that had been implemented in Chelmsford the previous year.

In response to a question regarding the first bullet on page 28 of the document pack, the Community Safety Partnership Manager advised that the figure quoted for the number of homes to be built was incorrect and he would amend it accordingly.

In response to a question regarding speed watch, the Police and Crime Commissioner (PCC) advised that the Essex Surfaces Road Partnership included the accident reduction team and representatives from the Police, Fire, Councils etc. Essex Fire Authority was the current driving force behind the community speed watch due to the availability of resources.

RESOLVED that the new priorities for 2017 / 18 and the success of the initiatives undertaken by the partnership to date, be noted.

The Chairman extended the Committees thanks to the Police and Crime Commissioner and Chief Inspector Egan for attending the meeting.

There being no further items of business the Chairman closed the meeting at 9.05 pm.
